Nazis Say Important Empire Port Inferno

Attack Reported To Be Most Violent On Britain Since Coventry Bombing; Hundreds Of Tons Of Missiles Used

SPOKESMAN CLAIMS RAF SUFFERS

Large-Scale Offensive Against Vital Key-Points Of England To Be Carried Out; Industries To Be Wiped Out

BERLIN, Nov. 29—German pilots returning from night raids over Britain declared today that the port of Liverpool was left a "roaring inferno" after last night's concentrated aerial attacks.

Reports from German airmen who participated in the attack indicated it was the most extensive and violent struck by the Luftwaffe, since the devastating assault on Coventry.

(Liverpool, Britain's great port on the northwestern Mersey River, is one of the most important points in the British Isles for handling traffic from North America.)

Beginning at twilight last evening with the initial group of attacks the raid on Liverpool grew "hour by hour" as the darkness deepened, German quarters said.

Finally, they declared, waves of hundreds of German planes were pounding important points in Liverpool so that numerous fires finally merged into a "mass conflagration."

Several hundred tons of high explosives and thousands of incendiary bombs were "hurled into the cauldron all night," German quarters said.

HUNDRED KILLED AS TROOPS BLOW UP 'PEACE' TRAIN

TOKYO, Nov. 29 — Approximately 100 persons lost their lives when an official train was dynamited by Chinese irregulars near Soochow, the Domei news agency reported today.

A strict censorship was clamped down on all news of the disaster.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29 — Approximately 100 persons were reported killed or injured today when a train full of Chinese and Japanese officials en route to Nanking was dynamited by guerrillas near Soochow.

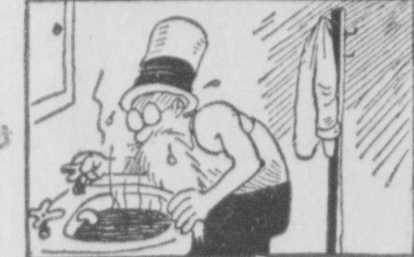

The officials were travelling to Nanking to participate in the ceremonial signing of a "peace treaty" between Japan and the Chinese Nanking regime, headed by Wang Ching-Wei.

Apparently the train struck a dynamite mine planted by irregulars of the Shungking government.

Whether any foreigners were aboard the train was not known immediately. Several American correspondents had planned to travel to Nanking aboard the train, but changed their plans at the last minute and went by passenger plane.

At the same time, supporters of the Wang Ching-Wei regime in Shanghai kidnapped Percy Chu, head of the reserve board of Chinese banks. His abduction was connected with recent reports that the Wang Ching-Wei government planned to open a new bank on the premises of the Central Bank of China in Shanghai. This bank recently was occupied by Japanese gendarmes.

6,500 EMPLOYEES RETURN TO JOBS AS STRIKE ENDS

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Nov. 29—Work on more than $1,000,000 in National Defense orders were resumed today after 6,500 employees agreed to accept a compromise in their seven-day strike at the New Kensington works of the Aluminum Company of America.

Approximately one-third of the employees returned to their jobs today taking inventory, while the remaining two-thirds will report for duty Monday, it was announced.

The compromise settlement finally agreed on involved the "ostracization" of the $27-a-week sheet mill helper because of whom the strike was called a week ago today.

Company representatives steadfastly refused to discharge the employee despite the union's contention that he was more than a year behind in his dues and that he had threatened a union leader with a knife when pressed for payment. Instead, they have agreed to transfer him to a boiler-house at Logan's Ferry, where he will have to make use of a private entrance and "have few contacts with other workers" to the extent of "working an odd turn and punching a timeclock at other than the usual times," the union announced.

F. D. R. FROWNS ON SUGGESTION FOR SALES TAX

Federal Levy Disliked As Means Of Financing Defense Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—President Roosevelt today declared that he would not look with favor on a federal sales tax as a means of financing the National Defense program.

He made the statement at his press conference as he prepared to hold a tax conference tonight with senate and house leaders and the government's financial experts.

Mr. Roosevelt first was asked if the tax conference would consider a sales tax. His answer was no. Reporters then inquired whether the chief executive would look with favor on sales tax. That brought an emphatic no.

He declared that the conference would be an exploratory meeting, and that no final decisions would be made at it.

It was certain, however, that some increases in taxes would be forthcoming. The President, it was reported, wishes to raise taxes to create additional revenue of from one to two billion dollars a year to finance the defense program over a long period.

Billions Needed
Government tax experts were said to have told the chief executive that defense and government (Continued on Page Four)

ACTON TO RETAIN POST ON BENCH DESPITE PROTEST

LANCASTER, Nov. 29—Efforts of several indicted Fairfield County residents to have Judge Frank M. Acton of Lancaster removed from the bench during their cases, alleging prejudice, failed Thursday when Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court refused to remove the barrister.

Efforts to remove Judge Acton were made by Charles White, Lancaster, under indictment for promoting a scheme of chance, called "numbers" game, and Paul Schisler, state liquor store manager in Lancaster, charged with attempting to influence members of a grand jury investigating reports of gambling. White and three others, Bernard O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Friesner, were arrested after a raid by Sheriff William Belhorn, Deputy Sheriff Dudley Crider and others on August 1.

The regular panel failed to return gambling indictments and the jurist called a special grand jury after he said he received information from Sheriff Belhorn that efforts had been made to influence jury members.

The special jury then returned gambling indictments against White and the others and charged Schisler with interfering with the original panel.

Chief Justice Weygandt, in returning his verdict, said that "Judge Acton is due the highest type of commendation for calling a special grand jury on receiving reports that his regular grand jury had been tampered with."

F. D. R. TO KEEP HOLCOMB CHIEF OF U. S. MARINES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—President Roosevelt today renominated Maj. Gen. Thomas Holcomb to be commandant of the Marine Corps for another four year period.

It was the second time in the history of the Marine Corps that a commander has been reappointed. Usually new commanders are named every four years.

Wall Street's Famous 'Plunger' Shoots Self

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—A chance remark Jesse L. Livermore made to a newspaper photographer two nights ago proved today to have been the sardonic announcement of his forthcoming suicide.

"It's the last picture you'll take of me because tomorrow I'm going away for a long, long time," the 63-year-old market speculator who in his life time won and lost millions of dollars in dizzy manipulations told the photographer Wednesday night at the Stork Club where he was dining with Mrs. Livermore.

Exactly 24 hours later the man who was still known as the "boy plunger of Wall Street," a title he earned 30 years ago, sent a bullet crashing into his brain in a cloak-room in the Sherry-Netherland Hotel on Fifth Avenue.

To his wife, the former Mrs. Harriet Metz Noble, daughter of a wealthy Omaha brewer whom he married in 1933, he left an eight-page incoherent letter. Intertwined with sentiments of deep affection were Livermore's assertions that his life had been a "failure" and that he was "tired of fighting."

Finally Lost for Good
Livermore began his spectacular career with the first $10 he saved from his wages as a board boy in a Boston brokerage house. He pooled it with the money of another clerk and eventually parlayed it into a fortune, on paper, at least, of $100,000,000. During his lifetime, he won and lost that fortune four times and finally lost for good.

DOVER, Eng.—German long-range guns shelled the Dover area again today in another of their "routine bombardments." The shelling lasted 90 minutes. The sun shone brilliantly but a mist over the middle of Dover strait prevented the Germans from sighting their targets. As a result the shelling was intermittent and at random.

BERLIN—The famed Sorbonne and other universities in Paris have been "suspended temporarily" as a penalty for student riots which occurred on Armistice Day. It was disclosed in Berlin today. Scores of French students participated in the demonstrations before being dispersed. A number were arrested.

ROME—Foreign reports that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italian army chief of staff, is commanding troops in Albania were denied officially in Rome today. Authorities likewise denied London reports that Argyrocasto had fallen to the Greeks.

BUDAPEST—Six Italian destroyers shelled the Greek island of Corfu last night, causing considerable damage, according to reports in Budapest today. (Editor's Note: Athens reports said that the destroyers were routed after firing a few shells.)

FUEHRER SENDS AIDE TO HANDLE BALKAN TROUBLE

Von Schirach In Budapest; Queen Mother Escapes; Michael May Follow

BUCHAREST, Nov. 29 — In a move indicating eventual German control of strife-torn Romania, Count Baldur Von Schirach, military governor of Vienna and a close confidant of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, arrived in Bucharest this afternoon.

His arrival coincided with imposition of martial law equivalent to complete military dictatorship as Premier Ion Antonescu struggled to stave off Iron Guard uprisings against his regime and prevent further executions which may already have claimed as many as 200 lives.

(Editor's Note: Simultaneously, the London Evening Standard reported from Bucharest that Queen Mother Helen had fled to Florence, Italy, for her safety. King Michael, who considers himself a prisoner, is expected to follow her shortly, the paper said.)

All of Romania was nothing less than an armed camp, with Romanian and German troops everywhere and all public buildings in military hands as Von Schirach, formerly head of the Hitler Youth Movement, reached Bucharest with his staff.

The ostensible reason for his visit was to attend the funeral tomorrow of Corneliu Codreanu, Iron Guard "martyr" whose execution for murder two years ago was finally "avenged" when the Iron Guard struck out at its enemies, stripping Romania of some of its most famous names.

Sent By Hitler
Reliable information indicated, however, that Von Schirach had been ordered here by Hitler to put an end to present anarchious conditions and stave off outright civil war toward which the country seemed to be drifting.

ATHENS, Nov. 29—Continued Greek advances in Albania despite stiffening Fascist resistance were reported today while the Athens high command claimed that British and Greek seaplanes chased away an Italian naval squadron that shelled the island of Corfu.

Latest reports from the Albanian front said that Greek troops had captured still more hills on the southern sector and that these strategic successes had opened a path for still greater advances.

On both the northern and southern sectors heavy fighting was reported, and several small groups of Italians were said to have surrendered.

The routing of the Italian warships was reported in an official communique which said: "Enemy destroyers fired a few shells on the north coast of Corfu, but fled under cover of a smoke screen as soon as friendly seaplanes appeared."

EXECUTIVE PLANS TOUR OF DEFENSE PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he is planning to leave Washington next week on a defense inspection tour which may take him over the 12 hour limit on rail travel he has imposed on himself since the international situation became acute.

London Claims Six Of Foe's Strongest Vessels Crippled By Explosives From Raiding Planes; Others Gain Havens

TRIPOLI AND PORT LAKE DAMAGED

Ark Royal Takes Part In Sea Battle, Big Carrier Coming To Assistance Of Cruisers In Mediterranean

LONDON, Nov. 29—A new blow by British naval planes against two important Italian bases was announced by the admiralty today as the nation exulted over Britain's stunning victory against a Fascist squadron in Wednesday's running sea and air battle in the Mediterranean.

Assaults by planes of the fleet air arm against the North African Italian port of Tripoli and against Port Laki in the Leros Islands were announced only a few hours after the admiralty informed the nation that six Italian warships had been left crippled by British shells, bombs and torpedoes in the Mediterranean encounter.

The admiralty announcement stated: "The commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean fleet reports that under cover of the fleet, air attacks by the fleet air arm were carried out simultaneously against Port Laki in Leros and Tripoli.

"Despite poor visibility a dockyard area and other places were hit at Port Laki. Fires were started and a ship, probably a warship, was attacked. One aircraft failed to return.

At Tripoli a ship alongside the quay and the quay itself were heavily hit. Major fires were started which were still visible nearly an hour later from a distance of 60 miles. All aircraft returned safely from this attack."

In Wednesday's sea battle, the British account said, an Italian battleship, three cruisers and two destroyers were pounded and damaged during a seven-hour fight involving dozens of war vessels and scores of planes.

Duce's Claims Differ
(The Italians claimed five British warships were damaged and that seven British naval planes were shot down. Rome admitted that one Italian cruiser was slightly damaged and one destroyer gravely crippled. Loss of two Italian planes also was conceded.)

The admiralty added that the British Mediterranean fleet emerged from the encounter with only the 10,000-ton cruiser Berwick slightly damaged by two shell hits and one fighting plane lost. Seven were killed and nine injured aboard the Berwick.

Aerial torpedoes launched from naval planes attached to the aircraft carrier Ark Royal were said to have struck a new 35,000-ton Italian battleship of the Littorio class. Other torpedoes hit squarely an Italian cruiser of the 10- (Continued on Page Four)

BODIES OF MORE BLAST VICTIMS HUNTED IN WEST

TOPPENISH, Wash., Nov. 29—With seven known dead and fourteen injured hospitalized, rescue workers today sought the bodies of three more persons believed killed in an explosion which demolished a combined warehouse, store and office building in this Yakima Valley community yesterday.

Mayor E. L. Bennett ordered an investigation into the disaster, believed caused by either a gas leak in the basement or dynamite stored there by the Richey-Gilbert warehouse.

Ray Snyder, repairman of the Northwest Natural Gas Company, who was among the injured, said he had turned on his flashlight to investigate the leak when the explosion occurred.

MORE COUNTIANS EXAMINED FOR YEAR'S TRAINING

About fifty Pickaway County registrants will have been given their physical examinations by the end of the week, draft board officials announced Friday, as classification work continued.

After this week, however, no more physical examinations will be given until the draft board has received notice of its next quota. According to federal regulations, examinations must be given within 30 days of the time that men are called into service, officials pointed out.

Questionnaires are being sent out each Thursday and Friday at the rate of 150 each week, and will continue to be mailed until all of the county's 2,700 registrants have been classified.

The county's first men to be called into service, Dudley W. Stout, Bernard Matz and Millard W. Good, were sent to Fort Hayes, Columbus, Thursday.

Thermometer readings generally throughout the state were higher this morning than yesterday when new season lows were reported. Columbus today reported 31 degrees; Dayton, 34; Cleveland, 29; Akron, 30; East Liverpool, 28, and Toledo, 32.

Snow flurries were predicted for today with the mercury scheduled to continue its ascent.

BRITISH SHIP DISCLOSES ATTACK BY NAZI CRAFT

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—Pursuit by a German submarine of a dodging British freighter in the North Atlantic off the Irish coast was reported today by Mackay radio.

Mackay reported that at 6:18 a. m. (EST), the British vessel Harpassa flashed the alarm: "submarine approaching!" Thereafter, there was silence.

At the time of the alarm, the Harpassa gave her position as latitude 53.35 north, 20.33 west, about 300 miles southwest of the Irish coast.

Farmers to Urge Change In Government Policies

Pay-As-You-Go Program May Be Suggested At Convention

GREEN TO BE RENAMED

Ohioans Urged To Help Selves Rather Than Seek U. S. Aid

COLUMBUS, Nov. 29.—With a denouncement of totalitarian governments still ringing in their ears, delegates to the annual two-day convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation today were to adopt resolutions.

They were expected to urge that the state government be operated on a pay-as-you-go basis, that there be no reapportionment of the membership of the General Assembly and that laws be enacted providing for periodic and compulsory state-wide inspection of automobiles.

"Totalitarian governments," said Murray D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio farm bureau, in an opening address, "are not the result of well-considered deliberation on the part of the people who accept them. Rather, they are the last desperate resort of desperate people who have lost faith in Democratic methods."

"The only dynamic alternative to the ever more powerful Fascist state is the economic co-operative movement."

Lincoln spoke to about 2,000 farmers and their wives registered for the organization's 22nd annual convention.

Perry L. Green, president of the Ohio bureau and scheduled to be re-elected at the organization's delegate-body meeting this afternoon, also spoke to the farmers.

Present Trend Hit

He decried the present trend "to depend on the government to do things for us," and asserted that the trend, whether it be "socialism, statism, or whatever it may be called, forces upon us the responsibility of keeping such action democratically responsive to the people."

"War cannot long be a substitute for domestic prosperity," warned Green. "If it were not for the tremendously large and unprecedented expenditures for defense and the war supply orders from Great Britain and Canada, we would undoubtedly be in a depression."

"The failure to make our economic system work is being hidden behind these enormous war expenditures. There can be little doubt but that the greater the prosperity brought on by war defense alone, unsupported by domestic production, the greater will be the inevitable collapse."

The "unfair" distribution of income was attacked by another speaker, Howard A. Cowden, president of the Consumers' Co-operative Association of Kansas City. He declared that farmers, although making up about one-fourth of the population of this country, receive about one-tenth of the national income.

1,000 in Chorus

Last night, those attending the convention were entertained by a chorus of 1,000 voices from among their membership, various other musical features and social and square dancing.

Two new members were elected to the bureau's 26-member board of trustees. They were E. W. Roush, Fremont, and R. H. Varlen, Canton, and succeed Burdette Havens, Helena, and R. E. Frederick, Youngstown. Seven others were re-elected.

The best automobile drivers are said to be those who have recently had an accident; but now don't go right out inviting a smash-up.

DIES' PARLEY WITH PRESIDENT TO BE CRUCIAL

Fate Of Un-American Probe May Be Decided During Conference

POSSIBILITIES NOTED

Texas Talks With His Aides Before Paying Respects At White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The future scope of the Dies committee investigation into fifth column activities was placed at stake at a showdown conference today between President Roosevelt and Rep. Dies (D) Tex., chairman of the committee.

Dies arrived in the capital by train shortly after 5 o'clock this morning, planning to confer with his aides before going to the White House late in the day.

Dies, accused by one of his colleagues in the house of being a "publicity seeker," was summoned back to Washington from his Orange, Tex., home by a presidential telegram. In the wire, Mr. Roosevelt charged that premature disclosures of Nazi and Communist activities by the Dies committee is handicapping the Department of Justice in its investigation of fifth columns reportedly trying to sabotage National Defense production.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he will not only talk to Dies but have Attorney General Robert Jackson arrange a series of conferences with state, justice, war and navy officials to work out a "close harmony" program for conducting anti-subversive activities.

Function Admitted
The nation's chief executive is reportedly in a benign mood. This was reflected even in his telegram to Dies. The President, while rebuking Dies for premature disclosures, said that he realized that a congressional committee, such as the Dies group, has its function in the American scheme.

The President also made it clear that responsibility for law enforcement against fifth column groups rested on the executive branch of the government. The Dies committee often makes it impossible to get evidence that will stand up in court by making disclosures before the Department of Justice is ready to strike, according to Mr. Roosevelt.

Dies, demanding that all Communists and Nazis be expelled from defense jobs, declared that he had given information on subversive activities, particularly in aircraft factories, to the Department of Justice but that no action was taken.

In the house, Rep. Dickstein (D) N. Y., bitterly assailed Dies. After terming the Texas a "pulpit seeker," Dickstein indicated that he would ask the new congress convening in January to refuse to appropriate funds for continuance of the committee.

At the same time, Dickstein called Dies' attacks on the FBI "shameful."

"I would not exchange one G-man for all the Dies political investigators," Dickstein declared.

Other members of the house urged legislation to "outlaw" strikes in defense industries.

An Exacting Discipleship

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for December 1 is Luke 9, the Golden Text being Luke 9:62, "No Man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the Kingdom of God.")

IN A RECENT lesson we read that Jesus chose the 12 disciples. In the present lesson He called the 12 together and gave them power and authority over all devils and to cure disease and sent them out to preach and heal.

He told them to take nothing with them except the clothes in which they were dressed, no money and no food. They were to go to houses in the towns they visited and those they converted would take care of them. If some would not welcome them, the disciples were to shake the dust of that city from their feet when they left.

By this time many people had heard of the Lord, and Herod also heard and asked who He was. Some said He was John the Baptist come to life again; others that He was Elias or some other prophet. Herod said that he had beheld John, but he wanted to see this man about whom people were talking.

When the apostles returned from their travels, Jesus took them into a desert place belonging to the city of Bethsaida. The people followed, about 5,000 of them. When it was supper time the disciples wanted to send all of them away, for they said, we have only five loaves of bread and two fishes—far too little to feed such a multitude. Jesus told them to divide the 5,000 into companies of 50 each. Then He took the food in His hands and blessed it, and the disciples passed it around. Not only were all the people fed, but 12 basketfuls were left.

Later, as He was alone praying, His disciples came to Him and He asked them who people said He was. They told Him what had been said, and Jesus said: "But whom say ye that I set him in the midst of them, saying: "Whoever shall receive this child in My name receiveth Me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great."

To show how broadminded Jesus was, John told Him that they had seen a man casting out devils in the name of Jesus, and asked if they should stop him. Jesus said, "Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us."

The Inhospitable Samaritans
Starting for Jerusalem, Jesus and the disciples came to a Samaritan village. The people there were not hospitable, and the disciples were angry and asked Jesus if they should call down fire from heaven to destroy the town. Jesus rebuked them, saying: "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. For the Son of Man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." And they went on to another village.

A certain man said to the Lord: "Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever Thou goest." But Jesus answered: "Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man hath not where to lay His head." To another man Jesus said, "Follow me." The man said he must first bury his father. Jesus said: "Let the dead bury their dead; but go thou and preach the kingdom of God." To another who said, "Lord, I will follow Thee; but let me first go and bid them farewell which are at home at my house." He said, "No man having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." He meant that preaching of the gospel is the most important thing of all, and will not wait for anything. He who is called to that duty, must give up everything for it.

The terrible storms that took so many lives and vessels on the Great Lakes is another reminder that weather in the Temperate Zone is often intemperate.

will attempt to aid Antonescu in setting up a military dictatorship excluding the Iron Guard. At the same time, he has been charged with the task of warning Horia Sima, vice-premier and Iron Guard leader, that German military authorities will take drastic measures unless the Iron Guard immediately demobilizes its armed bands.

Meanwhile, the bodies of 28 additional murdered persons were found by police in various parts of Bucharest and taken to a mortuary. The bodies were so disfigured that identification was impossible. The families of more than 100 prominent Bucharest citizens who have been reported missing were permitted to visit the mortuary.

Apparently acting as a result of Von Schirach's arrival, Sima called a meeting of the Ploesti group of Iron Guards which is notoriously radical and urged them to cease violence in accordance with his personal pledge to Antonescu.

New Deaths Listed

Tension continued high, however, as reports filtered in telling of new slayings at Ploesti and elsewhere, with police agents and politically prominent Jews among the victims as well as openly avowed anti-Iron Guards.

Antonescu was faced with a difficult task in restoring order because of the fact large masses of the population support the Iron Guards' campaign of vengeance.

SPORTSMEN MEET TONIGHT TO ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

Circleville and Pickaway County sportsmen will meet in the council chamber of City Hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock to organize a Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club.

Officers for the club will be chosen at Friday night's meeting, and plans will be made to establish a range of the third floor of the City Hall, the range to be available at all times for club members.

Dues will be set at $2 a year, with both rifle and pistol target practice being permitted. The club will operate on a non-profit basis, with police, firemen and members of the sheriff's staff being honorary members. Any profit made by the club will be turned over to the police department for the purchase of equipment.

The club is expected to spend about $100 in setting up the range, this money to come from dues.

NAZIS TEST BLOCKADE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 29—Two German steamers anchored in the port of Tampico were preparing today to make a new dash to sea after obtaining Mexican clearance papers. The ships are the Idarwald and Rhein, which were among four German freighters which tried to slip away from Tampico on the morning of November 14.

"Troops and tanks are all right, but sea power has the last word.

GERMANS CLAIM LIVERPOOL AFIRE

daily claimed minor RAF losses against "huge German tolls" and added:

"The facts always speak for themselves. The world can see now who lied."

He predicted large-scale and concentrated attacks on all important key points in England along the lines of a "mathematical procedure" and declared they would continue until "England's shipping facilities, railways, war industries and naval stations are wiped out."

"Although the Luftwaffe will change its tactics," the major declared "it will keep the RAF defenses guessing."

LONDON, Nov. 29—One of the heaviest Nazi raids of the war pounded the important northwestern English port of Liverpool last night and early today, causing numerous fires and damaging large numbers of houses and other buildings.

Although some residents of Liverpool were killed, the total number of casualties was reported not heavy in view of the scale of the air attack. The city was pounded continuously for some hours.

(Editor's Note: Dispatches from Berlin said that German air force crews returning from Liverpool reported that grain store houses, oil depots, drydocks, fuel tanks and aircraft plants extending for miles along the River Mersey in the Liverpool area were ablaze.

(These reports said running attacks were carried out for hours against Liverpool and that tremendous conflagrations resulted.)

The night in London was relatively quiet as the Nazis concentrated on the Liverpool and Merseyside region. After a lengthy lull in the capital the all-clear signal sounded at 4 a. m., ending London's 377th alarm of the war.

Heavy bombs and incendiaries were dropped on the Liverpool region in a concentrated attack that lasted most of the night, although the raiders were blasted by an intense barrage of anti-aircraft fire.

A second town in the Merseyside area also suffered its most severe raid of the war and a third town in northwestern England was heavily hit.

An Air Ministry communiqué reported "considerable enemy activity" throughout the country during the night but said the main weight of the raids were directed against the Merseyside where a "number of fires were started, some serious" and a large number of houses and other buildings were damaged.

Bombs also were dropped on a large number of isolated points in the southern half of England, the Air Ministry communiqué stated.

Some bombs fell on the eastern midlands, but little damage was reported in that sector.

Oil bombs as well as explosives fell in and around Liverpool. Reports received in London said damage was confined chiefly to residential property.

LONDON, Nov. 29—Terrific new British air raids on various targets in Germany and Nazi-occupied territory were announced by the British Air Ministry today.

"Strong forces of RAF bombers raided Dusseldorf and Mannheim last night, attacking gas works, communications and armament factories," an announcement stated.

"They also bombed oil and other targets at a Baltic port and the invasion ports of Antwerp, Boulogne and Le Havre."

DRIVE FOR SCOUT FUNDS TO BE COMPLETED SOON

Charles Goeller, Scout finance chairman for Pickaway County, announced Friday that the Scout campaign to raise funds for the Boy Scout troops within the county would be concluded by the end of next week.

Approximately $500 of the $700 Pickaway County quota has now been raised, Chairman Goeller said, and added that he believed the rest could be subscribed within the next few days. Chairman Goeller said his action to conclude the scout drive for funds was prompted by a visit from Field Executive Robert Scanland, who was anxious to have the drive closed.

The funds subscribed will be used to pay the salary of the field executive and to provide county troops with services from the district and state headquarters.

TWO OF DUCE'S BASES BOMBED

000-ton Bolzano class, while British Skua dive-bombers of the fleet air arm were believed to have damaged a light Italian cruiser of the Condottieri type.

Firing at long range while pursuing the fleeing Italian squadron almost to Italy's shores, the 15-inch guns of the battle cruiser Renown and the heavy artillery of other British vessels set on fire an eight-inch gun Fascist cruiser and struck a destroyer of the 1,499-ton Grecale class, causing her stern to sag and the vessel to lose way with a heavy list.

A second destroyer was said to have begun to list and lose speed after being damaged by shellfire.

Superiority Claimed

Fierce aerial combats accompanied and followed the sea battle, but in this fighting, too, the British claimed superiority. The Italians lost two planes while only one fighter of the British naval air arm failed to return.

Italian planes dropped 30 bombs around the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, but, said the admiralty, the ship "emerged from the spray with all guns in action" and suffered no damage or casualties.

The two shell hits sustained by the Berwick failed to impair its operations, the admiralty said, and the cruiser "remains in service."

The battle occurred south and west of Sardinia, starting when the Italian vessels opened fire on four light British cruisers.

The Fascist ships turned tail, however, when the battle cruiser Renown and other heavier vessels appeared, the admiralty said.

The British fleet came close to catching the Italian ships but not close enough to engage them in a decisive, show-down battle.

BERLIN, Nov. 29—Two British destroyers were hit by torpedoes in a battle fought near the English coast in the western section of the English Channel, it was stated by authoritative German quarters today.

Pushing close to the British shore, these sources said, German destroyers engaged several British destroyers, torpedoing two. The German vessels were not damaged, it was stated.

At the same time, these same circles asserted that German destroyers off Britain's south coast ment expenses during his third-term might exceed $60,000,000,000 while revenues might cover only $35,000,000,000 of the cost.

Proposals expected to be submitted during the meeting tonight include increased income taxes and state and surtaxes. A proposed increase in the debt limit to $60,000,000,000 or $65,000,000,000 will also be brought into the discussions.

WALL STREET'S 'PLUNGER' DEAD

Sherry-Netherland bar, stopping now and then to scribble furiously in a little brown note book. About 5:30, he went into the cloakroom, seated himself in a chair, and fired a .32 calibre bullet into his head behind the right ear. No one heard the shot. At the feet of his slumped-over body was found the gun.

A friend with whom Livermore had lunched the day before yesterday said Livermore was depressed because he owed $85,000 and saw no immediate prospects of liquidating that amount.

Livermore was the typical get-rich-quick speculator. He zoomed to the dizzy heights of millions in market profits on Wall Street and in Chicago grains only to lose and then come back again.

He was married three times. He was once the victim of a $100,000 jewel robbery. Once he disappeared in New York and returned to blame amnesia for his actions. He was frequently engaged in bitter court litigation.

It was exactly five years ago, on Thanksgiving Day, 1935, that his son, Jesse, figured in a spectacular shooting in California. Jesse, Jr., then 16, was shot by his mother, Livermore's second wife, who had divorced him in 1932. The case was subsequently pronounced an accident.

taurants has been rigidly rationed, department studies show.

Italy's food troubles are five years old as an outgrowth of four years of conflict in Ethiopia and Spain, and the Allied blockade which began to cut into Italian food imports at the outset of the war according to the experts. Now its mainly the British blockade that's putting the clamps on the Italian food supply, they said.

"The British naval blockade has disorganized the Italian economic structure more than any other factor in the war," the experts reported.

Here's Official Number List For Draft

Editor's Note: The Herald publishes each day a number of names, Serial and Order Numbers of Pickaway Countians who registered under the Selective Service Act. This list is the official one as announced by the Draft Board. In the publication will be the name, serial and order number of each man who registered. In the list below the first number listed is the Serial Number; the second is the Order Number. For instance, Avery Heeter registered. After the registration was completed the local Draft Board shuffled the names and conducted its draw. Heeter was given No. 2040 Serial Number. Later the lottery in Washington and Cobb's No. 2040 was the 49th Pickaway County number drawn from the glass bowl. So he will be the 49th in the county to receive his questionnaire the answers on which will decide whether he will be ordered into service for a year. In each instance below, the first number is the Serial Number and the second one is the Order Number, the order in which the registrant will be asked to fill his questionnaire.

TO CHRISTMAS MAILERS
FOLK: Every Christmas season brings to the local postoffice department a flood of packages and Christmas cards so great that it is next to impossible to handle them all with the same efficiency with which the regular mail is delivered. Consideration on your part by sending out your Christmas packages and cards early not only will prevent a last-minute rush at the postoffice but will also insure you prompt and efficient service. There are several ways in which you may help the postoffice department and at the same time obtain better service for yourself. Here are some of them: 1. Do your Christmas shopping and mailing according to the distance your packages and cards have to be sent; 2. Wrap all parcels securely. Articles easily broken should be securely crated and boxed and marked "fragile" and perishable articles should be marked "perishable"; 3. Address should be complete, with the house number and name of street, postoffice box or rural-route number, and typed or plainly written in ink; 4. Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Greeting cards should be sent first class for best results; 5. Do not mail Christmas cards in red, green or other dark-colored envelopes, or in very small envelopes; 6. For your own protection, insure or register all valuable gifts; 7. When buying 1½ cent stamps, buy them in lots of ten or multiples of ten. Such purchases can be made in even change thereby reducing the possibilities of mistakes.

TO JACKSON TOWNSHIP FOLK
COUNTIANS: I was greatly pleased this week to learn that a parent and teacher organization was being formed in your community. Every township and every town in our county should have a similar organization, because there are many advantages to be found in parents and teachers interested in the various schools working together for the common good of the children who attend the respective schools. To my way of thinking Circleville would benefit greatly from a similar organization. Often, problems arise that could be worked out to the advantage of all if parents and teachers were better acquainted, if they could put their queries before each other so that various

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . . —By— Charles F. Stewart

WHILE there'll be plenty of unity behind President Roosevelt on the national defense issue, indications already are multiplying in Washington, as politicians get back to the capital from the recent hustings, that there won't be a superabundance of it relative to other administration policies. Men prominently identified with the losing side in the late campaign, speaking for publication, give the impression that they're all for non-partisan solidarity, lest they be accused of hostility to our preparedness program, or of sore-headedness at least. In confidential talks, however, many of them take quite a different tone. Even confidentially they declare emphatically for any amount of nationally defensive activity, of course. But they'd rather not have Wendell Willkie officially identified with it, because they think such a connection would tend to silence him concerning other New Deal doings in general. They don't want him back in the public utility business, either, reckoning that that would tend to hush him up. The argument is that he can make all the money he needs practicing law independently, leaving him free to say whatever he likes on the subject of the New Dealers' management henceforward. Then, whenever he considers this management entirely wrong, his counselors figure that he'll be in a position to give it a terrific blast, and they believe that it must be more effective than any alternative criticism could be.

WANT WILLKIE OUTSIDE
The election returns were hardly in before it was suggested that Wendell would be an ideal individual for President Roosevelt to absorb into his governmental organization. Republican strategists do not want him so absorbed. They want him altogether on the outside, raising Cain at every favorable opportunity. This doesn't sound like genuine wishfulness for 100 percent unity. A joking but ill-natured suggestion also is being passed around in Washington anti-New Deal circles to the effect that, now we have a dictator (such being the jokers' assumption, on the third term basis), he ought to be entitled to a regulation form of salute, similar to the Nazi or Fascist up-arm gesture accorded to Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini. The proposal is to raise the open right hand, with wiggling fingers, and press the thumb against the nose. I don't call that notion particularly unified, either. F. D. R. himself, returned to Washington from Hyde Park after election day, seems exceptionally undictatorial. At his past press conferences he's averaged, in his contacts with the newspaper boys, not a bit overbearing but a bit superior—smilingly so, but inclined to treat 'em as mere kids. Now all that edge is off. The impression he gives is that he's heard this dictator talk (as naturally he has) and is going questions could be decided. I feel certain that your new society, which I understand will one day be affiliated with the Parent-Teacher Association organization, will prove of much benefit to all of you, and to your children for whose sake it is being perfected.

TO PLAYGROUND DONORS
SIRS: Circleville owes a debt of gratitude to Ted Lewis and his New York friends who were responsible for a donation of $500 which will be used to help equip the Ted Lewis Recreation Center, the city's new playground. This money will be used in any way the committee in charge of the playground sees fit, either for helping to condition the ground or for helping to equip it. Circleville folk who have been working in the interest of the park during the last year or so were surprised by the gift after receiving a check for $1,000 only a month ago from the entertainer, who has done so much to publicize Circleville wherever he has appeared in his 25 years of the entertainment business.

TO EVERYONE
FRIENDS: Heavy snows are possibilities at almost anytime nowadays, and all of us should keep in mind that our feathered friends have difficulty finding food when a blanket of snow covers the ground. Housewives should sweep snow away from their backdoor steps to clear a small space in which bread crumbs may be thrown to the birds. Better still, the men about the house should clear away the snow, so the housewives can toss food to the birds.

TO PARENTS
FRIENDS: Last week city firemen began their annual Christmas toy repair program. One of the reasons for beginning so early was to avoid the last minute rush which always accompanies the holiday season. So far, few toys have been brought in. Fire Chief Talmer Wise has reported. By sending in your broken toys early, firemen may be able not only to have the entire supply repaired before Christmas, but also may handle a larger supply than in previous years.

TO OHIO STATE ALUMNI
GRADS: A program is being arranged for December 6, the date set aside by officials of your alma mater for observance of Ohio State Day throughout the world. Pickaway County has a large and excellent alumni, the alumni association has capable officers, and an excellent program is being arranged. I hope that all of you are enough interested in the school of your choice to plan to attend the O. S. U. alumni dinner and program. The committee in charge has not completed its program nor decided on definite arrangements for the observance, but I feel sure that the event will be an outstanding one. You should keep the date, December 6, open in your plans, because you, as Ohio State graduates or former students, should participate in the dinner and program.

out of his way to demonstrate that he's no such thing. He was the National Press club's dinner guest the other night, though there's no doubt that a great majority of the Washington correspondents were against him during the campaign. He got a grand reception, too—but a lot of it was mere hospitality. However, he made the date before election day. Possibly, though, he had it in mind to placate the crowd in advance, for there's no doubt that the club likes to get notabilities like himself on its list of visitors. It cost a good bunch of simolians to eat with him.

LESS DICTATORIAL?
At that, I imagine he'll be less dictatorial in manner during his third term than he always was before, for the simple reason that he knows he's accused of it. But unity on Capitol Hill? It'll be there if we get into the war, and it will be there in the meantime, on the subject of preparedness. Otherwise, if I'm any judge of the chatter I hear from Republican and Democratic anti-New Deal politicians and from newspapermen from all over the country, it won't be noticeable. It's preached, but it remains to be seen if it will be practiced. And there are good authorities who say it shouldn't be practiced, moreover. Their contention is that democracy needs a strong minority opposition to any government.

A very common condition with which dermatologists have to deal is an eczematous eruption of the hands which in many cases is due to hypersensitivity to soaps and allied cleansers. A recent study by a number of dermatologists on this subject has been reported to the American Medical Association. Soaps are salts of fatty acids, usually sodium, potassium, or ammonium salts. A large number of fats and oils of animal and vegetable origin may be used by the manufacturer of soaps. Besides this, soaps of different grades may contain such things as rosin, sodium silicate, or water glass, which may be present in certain soaps as high as 40 per cent. Naphtha, borax and a number of oils, gums, resins, balsams, musk, civet and other perfumes may also be present. In most cases the eczema is due to one of these dyes, perfumes or essential oils.

M. C. S.:—"What do you do for ear itch and wax with bad odor in the ear?"
Answer—This is either due to infection of the inner ear with discharge, or eczema of the ear. The wax can be softened by oil and the eczema treated by pledges of cotton saturated with zinc oxide ointment, but either condition is best treated by a specialist who uses an ear speculum and can see the exact condition.

By MARIE BLIZARD
CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
KIT'S EYES flew to Fran's face. She sat back on her heels. "Don't tell me," she said. "Let me guess. It's that astrology of yours. You've been studying my future in the stars. It's such bosh, darling!"
"Bosh, nothing!" Fran retorted. "Didn't June Edwards herself predict a wonderful future for you three months ago?"
"But it was already wonderful," Kit said calmly. "And may I point out to you that there was already a five-year contract with Sembler in our little safe? Why shouldn't it be wonderful?"
Fran's mind was momentarily side-tracked from her important news. "Didn't she predict that I was going to be married? And am I not?"
"I hope you are," Kit returned laughingly.
Fran did not smile. Kit offered a conciliatory hand and said, "Don't mind me, Fran. I'm jealous because she didn't read a husband into my horoscope."
"You'll have luck of that kind some day, Kit. When the moon's in Aries, you'll—"
"I'll meet a dark man, I suppose. And I always preferred blonds. That just goes to show how ironical—"
"Kit, don't get me off on that subject. I've got news for you."
"What news, Fran?"
"In the honors department. You've made top grade."
"Honors?" Kit repeated.
"Honors, and how! You remember all the talk about the Gershwin Memorial before you went away?"
"The Gershwin Memorial? Oh, you mean the program the New York Philharmonic is going to give at the Stadium. Of course, I remember it. There's been some talk that Pons is going to sing. They're going to do 'Porgy and Bess.'"
"You thought some Metropolitan star was going to sing it?"
"Of course. Everybody knows that."
"You're going to do it! You've been invited by the committee."
Kit got up and went to the window unsteadily. She said, in a small voice, "I—I can't believe it—yet."
"It'll mean an awful lot of work," "Work? Oh, it means more work than that to me. I must tell Vance at once."
"Not tonight, you won't. He's in Boston. He'll be at the studio tomorrow for the Georgia Beauty Cream program."
"Is that a new one?"
"Yes. Testimonial stuff from so-city gals with the guests doing a bit of performing as well. Vance is M. C.-ing it."

Kit slipped into the studio when the red light over the doors turned to green. The Georgia Beauty program was off the air.
She saw Vance come out of the control room and stop to talk to a girl in a mink coat. She waved her handbag at him. He said something to the girl, then crossed the studio to her.
Before she could say more than hello, he said, "It's good to see you back, Kit. You look great. Stick around for a few minutes, will you? I want you to meet a girl."
Perhaps it was the way he said it, or the way that his eyes looked at her, or the boyishness in his voice. It was as if he'd said, "I want you to meet THE girl."
She felt a cold alertness, as if in the presence of danger, but she said evenly, "What girl?"
"Miss Purcell. Mimi Purcell. She wants to meet you. I want you to meet her."
"Should I know her?"
"Sure you should. You've heard of her old man. She's a debutante, one of the girls on this program. And a swell person, too."
"Is she?" Kit's voice was intended to convey the impression that she was enlightened, but little impressed.
"What's the matter, Kit? Oh, I get it. The old professional angle towards amateurs. Say, you ought to remember her. She sang in the Sembler audition the same night you did."
"So she sings?"
"Yeah. She's really got a voice. Wants to get on the air professionally. She's asked me to give her a few pointers about technique."
"Technique?" There was eloquent comment in the way she repeated the word. "In her drawing room on Park Avenue at five, I suppose?"
"Well—as a matter of fact, she does."
"Bring her over," she said coolly. "I must run along in a moment. I had some news for someone, but it can wait."

Kit shifted the telephone from her right to her left ear and put her hand over the mouthpiece. "The green sweater suit," she whispered to her maid, who was packing for her. She murmured, "Really, Myrna?" into the instrument. Then, quite suddenly, her whole body seemed to be listening as Myrna's voice flowed on: "I was wondering what you made of her, Kit," she was saying. "Personally, I think Mimi is using Vance for a good thing. My agent told me she'd called to see him with Vance to see if he could get her a spot for the autumn."

Kit said, "I wouldn't know anything about it."
"Well, I would, my dear. That girl is a celebrity collector. First it was a heavyweight champion and then it was a movie cowboy and after that, my goodness, I can't remember who else, but she drops them all like hot cakes. But she doesn't seem to be dropping Vance, does she?"
Kit bit her underlip and said nothing.
"After all, it may mean something. The columnists seem to think so. It's been on hot and heavy now since—oh, a couple of months. They're seen everywhere together! Of course, she has taken Vance right into her own set. Personally, I think he likes it. You'd think he'd been knighted or something, the way he looks when anybody makes any cracks about her being his girl."
Kit said, "Myrna, will you excuse me now? I've got packing to do. . . . Thanks. . . . Yes, I'll see you at the studio."
She put the telephone back on the table with a thoughtful gesture. "It's been on hot and heavy now—oh, a couple of months." Yes, it was two months since Vance had said he wanted her to meet a girl that far-away day in the studio. Spring had come and summer was nearing, and it was winter in her heart.
The bell rang, and a few minutes later Anna came to the door saying, "It's Mr. Vance, Miss Kitty. He's waitin' in the livin' room."
Kit got up, with the old pounding in her bosom. She looked in her mirror hastily and tucked a lock of hair under the brim of her sailor. She said, "You finish packing, Anna. Put in my pale blue crepe. Old Mr. Sembler's favorite color is blue."
"Yes, ma'am," the girl answered. "It ain't every young lady would choose a special dress just to please such a old gentleman."
Kit touched a dash of perfume to her ear. "It's his eighty-fifth birthday, Anna, and he is a very special old gentleman."
She went into the living room with a greeting on her lips. Vance was seated in a attitude of dejection, his head in his hands. (To Be Continued)

ATHLETIC CLUB WHIPS 'GHOSTS' IN 40-29 GAME

Roush, Purcell And Gregg Pace Locals To Margin; City Club On Top

Circleville Athletic Club cagers, paced by Red Roush, Carl Purcell and Junior Gregg, won an impressive 40-29 basketball victory Thursday evening over the Sioux City, Iowa, Ghosts, clever and speedy Negro traveling team.

The Athletic Club crew grabbed an early lead and kept safely ahead throughout the ball game. A 10-0 advantage was tallied in the first period, the halftime score was 14-6 and the third session ended 27-12. The C.A.C. seconds played part of the last period.

Roush's defensive and scoring ability assisted the Club team to no small degree, the Salter Creek Township coach proving to be a keen ball player. He tallied nine points, Purcell hit for 14 and Gregg added 13 to the total.

Pete Hood and Dunn were best for the Sioux City team, getting 24 of the team's total of 29. The Negro team, defeated before the final period started, put on an exhibition of football and baseball in the last quarter much to the merriment of the crowd.

C. A. C. Greatly Improved

The C.A.C. team, vastly improved over its play a week ago, takes on a much stronger team next Thursday, the Flying Swedes, another road crew that has drawn capacity crowds wherever it has appeared.

The Chillicothe City Club gained a 44-28 edge over the C.A.C. seconds, the winning outfit taking advantage of superior height to gain its score. The City Club was runner-up in the C.A.C. Independent tournament last year and has a fine ball club again this season.

NAVY 3 TO 1 FAVORITE TO TURN BACK CADETS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29 — It's Army's turn, but today, on the eve of the service gridiron classic, Navy ruled a top-heavy favorite to repeat its performance of last season and scuttle the victory-starved 1940 Cadet eleven.

On the other hand, the West Pointers have been whipped to razor-edge keenness and are itching for a chance to blast the Annapolis Middles and upset the dope which rates them a three-to-one underdog.

At any rate, the 102,000 fans are due, as usual, to see one of the fiercest battles of the year — a game as full of football pyrotechnics as Philadelphia's massive municipal stadium will be with gold braid and brass buttons.

Nation's Unbeaten Team List Becomes Short As Bowl Season Approaches

By Lewis Burton

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—America's latest tragedy is a bottleneck in the bowl industry today. All of a sudden, it has been discovered that there aren't enough unbeaten teams to go around, and it looks as if the colossal gum-up created by the Texas Aggies' defeat at the hands and feet of Texas yesterday will provoke a wild scramble by the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and what-next bowl people.

Tennessee evidently has supplanted Texas Aggies as the probable Rose Bowl opponent for Stanford, unless it suffers a monumental upset against Vanderbilt tomorrow. As Texas showed, it can happen in 60 seconds. The Rose Bowl-bound Aggies will long remember the "100,000 minute" in which Pete Layden completed passes to Jack Crain and Noble Doss and then plunged the last yard for the winning touchdown.

The score produced in that opening minute of play at Austin, Ky., was good enough to win by 7-0 and compelled the bowl invitational committees to revise all their nebulous plans. Texas Aggies, with its great John Kimbrough and a winning streak of 19 straight behind it, remains one of the glamour teams of the land, but it can be definitely excluded as a Rose Bowl prospect and there is reason to believe political pressure will compel it to pass up the probable $75,000 or so of the Sugar Bowl to appear in the Dallas Cotton Bowl.

And what next? Assuming that the signs are correct and Boston College has been promised the Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans with Fordham having the Orange Bowl game tied up, contingent on victories tomorrow, the problem then becomes one of finding a foe for them.

The game between Alabama and undefeated Mississippi State tomorrow should fill one spot. Up to a late hour yesterday, that affair was expected to produce Fordham's foe. The temptation of the fatter fee in the Sugar Bowl will, of course, be something to attract the Alabama-Mississippi State victor. The $40,000 bait held out by Miami's Orange Bowl contest would undoubtedly be dangled in front of the once-beaten Nebraska, which, you can feel reasonably sure, will take adequate care of Kansas State. Word from Washington, D. C., says that Georgetown has committed itself to a charity game against Santa Clara in Los Angeles on Christmas. Santa Clara, however, seems negative. If that show falls flat, Georgetown could be counted on to fill one bowl vacancy.

On the other hand, there is also the possibility that Texas Aggies won't yield to Cotton Bowl pressure. In that event, there might be nothing but a switch in places between the Aggies and Tennessee on the bowl schedule, with the Texans winding up in the New Orleans game.

C. OF C. ACTS TO KEEP JOB FOR PHILLY COACH

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29—The New Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce today prepared to present a resolution asking the city board of education to re-hire Woodrow Hayes as high school football coach for another season. Hayes was notified this week by Supt. H. S. Carroll that he would not be recommended for re-employment in 1941-42.

TEXAS STRIKES FAST TO BLAST AGGIES' STREAK

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 29—Cata-pulted out of the undefeated ranks by an inspired University of Texas eleven, Texas A. & M. today fell back into a group of three or four schools with a chance to win a Rose Bowl bid.

Until they were crushed 7 to 0 by the Longhorns yesterday in one of the season's most amazing upsets, the Aggies were heavy favorites to oppose Stanford in the Rose Bowl. Today, it was considered here that either Boston College or Tennessee has a better chance for the Rose Bowl bid.

The upset came with stunning suddenness yesterday when the Longhorns scored against the Aggies in the first minute of play. Never before this season had the Aggies even been behind temporarily, and then winning streak stretched back nineteen games.

The Longhorns then proceeded to prove that their initial scoring thrust was no flash in the pan by effectively holding back the Aggies, and by threatening to score again. Fullback John Kimbrough of the Aggies played sensational ball, but it proved of no avail against the inspired home team.

The Longhorn's score was engineered chiefly by Fullback Pete Layden. First, Layden tossed a 31-yard pass to Jack Crain, who took it out of bounds on the 34-yard line. On the next play, Layden ran back to the 50-yard line and threw another long pass which Noble Doss took to the one-foot line, where he was stopped by Kimbrough.

Layden himself smashed the ball over, and Crain kicked the extra point to end the scoring for the day. The Texas team later was stopped on the 8-yard line, threatening to score.

Fire Chief Warns That Toy Supply Must Be Boosted

Repair Program To Be Abandoned Unless Youngsters Start To Speed Delivery To Engine House; Show Should Help

Unless the supply of toys coming into the fire department shows a marked increase within the next few days, the fire department's Christmas toy repair campaign will have to be dropped, Fire Chief Talmer Wise announced Friday.

A supply of toys sufficient to handle only about a dozen youngsters has been received, the fire chief said, pointing out that at this time last year nearly four times as many toys had come in.

Last year members of the fire department were busy all during the last two weeks of November and the first three of December, repairing and repainting toys for the city's underprivileged children. This year the supply has been so limited that firemen have been idle most of the time, Chief Wise said. Last year, on the day before Christmas, the fire department distributed toys to boys and girls in 112 families in the city.

As a means of swelling their toy pile, Circleville firemen were looking optimistically, Friday, at the Grand Theatre's toy show to be held Saturday morning at 10:30. Children of Circleville and Pickaway County may gain admission to the show by presenting one toy at the door. All toys received will be turned over to the fire department.

New toys are preferred since they make better gifts, although an old or broken toy may admit a youngster to the show. Fire Chief Talmer Wise said that if the toy show did not succeed in bringing in a substantial supply of toys, it would be useless to attempt his department's annual toy repair campaign. The project has been "slipping" for several years, he pointed out, but added that this year was the worst fire department ever had ever experienced.

Legionnaires hope to continue their Christmas treat this year with the help of other organizations in the city. At their meeting Wednesday night, they decided that it would be useless for them to attempt the project alone, but that with the help of the city's service clubs a successful Christmas treat and program could be sponsored. The legion committee working on the Christmas treat includes Mack Parrett, Lawrence Johnson and Robert Young. The program will be held December 24 in Memorial Hall.

press and "Blue Prairie." The Pioneers trio will sing "Mandy Lee," Nora Cuneen as "Cecilia," Fran Allison as "Aunt Fanny," and Clarence Hartzell as "Uncle Bud" will be among the regulars in the cast.

GRAND OLE OPRY
Bill Monroe and his Blue Grass Boys will be the featured guests on the Grand Ole Opry Saturday, at 9:30 p. m. over the NBC-Southern Red net. Their song will be "The Mule Skinner's Blues." Also guesting are Paul Warrack and the Gully Jumpers with Mississippi Sawyer.

BLONDIE TAKES REST
When Blondie takes a rest from household responsibilities, Dagwood runs the Bumstead affairs on the weekly Blondie program Monday, 7:30 p. m. over CBS. Dagwood copes with insurance men, salesmen, collectors and greeting card designers and in the end, it's Dagwood who needs the rest.

RADIO BRIEFS
June Travis, of the Girl Alone cast, is doing a guest shot on "Man in the World," aired from the Chicago museum of Science and Industry.

Cecile Roy, Chicago character actress formerly heard on the Uncle Ezra stanzas, is now one of the Fred Allen Workshop Players in the absence of Minnie Pious.

George Jackson, of the Don Juans on Horace Heidt's Treasure Chest program, is pining for his sweetheart, Edith McCartney, who remained in Boston when radio and picture assignments took the singing quartet to California.

A movement is afoot to nominate Joan Blaine as "First Lady" of the airwaves.

RADIO THEATRE GUESTS
The addition of Fay Wray and Ronald Reagan to the cast of "Knut Rockne—All American" makes the Radio Theatre production on Monday, a four-star airing. Pat O'Brien in the title-part and Donald Crisp in a supporting role have already been announced by Cecil B. DeMille who is the producer of the full-hour drama show over the Columbia network at 9 p. m.

Fay Wray is a versatile young lady. In between movie, stage and radio assignments she's written a play in collaboration with Sinclair Lewis. Now she's cast as Bonnie Rockne, the wife of the famed Notre Dame coach.

Ronald Reagan will be taking the same part he had in the successful movie version of "Knut Rockne—All American." He got outstanding notices from the movie critics for his portrayal of one of the best known players Rockne developed, George Gipp. Rockne used Gipp's name to spur on his later teams to great heights on the gridiron.

UNCLE EZRA
A campaign to streamline the old Town Hall will be waged by the women of the mythical town of Rosedale when "Uncle Ezra" and the citizens of the town gather 'round their Station E-Z-R-A on Saturday night, 10 p. m., NBC-Red network. Pat "Uncle Ezra" Barrett will lead the opposition against the tearing down of the town clock and other landmarks of the community. "Sons of the Pioneers" will do three original tunes, "He's Ridin' Home," "Cody of the Pony Express," and "The Pioneers."

Reuben Johnson, Jackson Township, was fined $10 and costs for each of three pelts he possessed, and his son Dale was fined $25 and costs for hunting without a license. Both paid their fines and were released.

Charles Boltenhouse, also of Pickaway County, was fined $10 and costs for possessing one pelt and was released after he paid his fine. The charge against Boltenhouse was filed by Officer Francis and Game Protector Roland Brown, Perry County.

BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN UNIT TO GET STARTED

Mrs. C. G. Shulze, chairman, announces that the Circleville unit of Bundles for Britain will in all probability be under way this coming week when it is expected that supplies and instructions will be received from National Headquarters.

On receipt of these instructions, Mrs. Shulze will call a meeting of the public to acquaint everyone with the work to be done.

"Ever since having been appointed chairman," says Mrs. Shulze, "I have been asked by interested people what they can do to help. There are many ways in which you can help. You can knit, sew, mend clothes, give money, or if that is impossible, donate just as precious a thing—your time."

"You don't have to join Bundles for Britain; there are no memberships. You just go to headquarters and say you want to help. It is everybody's fund and everybody is needed and made welcome."

The set-up thus far is as follows: Mrs. C. G. Shulze, chairman, Mrs. H. O. Grant, co-chairman, Mrs. Clark Will, secretary, Mrs. Harry W. Hefner, treasurer. Chairmen of the various work committees will be announced at the coming meeting.

Father-Son Program Put On For Ashville P.T.A.

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

The November meeting of the Ashville Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school auditorium last night. A fair-sized crowd was on hand to witness the program listed in the program book as "Father and Son" night.

After a short business session the entertainment got under way with the song, "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine," sung by six boys of the fifth grade.

Rev. Winterhoff, from St. Paul's Lutheran Church, gave an inspirational talk on the subject, urging fathers to be pals to their sons and stressing the transition period between the boy and the young man as one of importance in this relationship.

"Consarn that Pig" was the title of a playlet presented by Lewis Hay and Roy Kuhlwein, who, with their "barnyard make-up" (jugs, whiskers and all), gave the audience something different if not new and pleased everyone, especially the children.

Clyde Brinker, Herbert Swayer, Ben Duvall and son, Don, teamed up to present "Uncle Zed's Hired Man," a one act play, this, too, with the country touch, which had its exciting moments including a rooster-laying-climax and tall-story-telling contest. Mr. Swayer played the part of "Uncle Zed" and "Brink" acted as straight man, throwing in a few ad-libs from time to time. Ben Duvall fitted into the plot as the perfectly unpredictable farmer's helper. Don completed the cast as the son who told on the hired man, thus exposing some of the laughable incidents. All the participants are to be congratulated for their time and effort in putting this Father and Son program across.

Next month's program will be given by the Mothers and Daughters.

"It would be a good time now or soon to round up some of these 'pestiferous,' pheasant and rabbit eating foxes that infest the northern section of the county."

This is the kind of talk we have heard here within the last few days but no real action toward an organization for a fox drive is in evidence yet. It will be recalled by quite a few of our community people that two very successful drives were made in this section a few years ago. One round-up was on the George Wright farm in Walnut Township and the other on the Vause farm near Duvall. They both proved out fine and several foxes were taken. Some organization now as an active body could do this trick to perfection and to their financial advantage. What say? And thanks. No charges.

"All the money they need and more" we understood Frank Dum, clerk and member of the Madison Township school board, to say when we met him here yesterday. Told their school is in splendid

Due to the extremely poor weather the estimated attendance of 100 was cut to approximately one half of that figure. This accounted, no doubt for the extra helpings of turkey, oysters, cranberries, etc., which made it difficult for the willing victims to feel their best for quite some time. Everyone seemed to enjoy this particular visit to Commercial Point.

Several members of the teaching staff at near-by Walnut School attended the banquet mentioned in the above paragraph. Kenneth Holtrey, Supt. Bennett, Judson Lanman and Mr. Cockrell were representatives from this school and it goes without saying that they, too, enjoyed themselves.
